ST. LOUIS IS HAVING A BAD "PIPE DREAM"

Griff Denies Any Trade Deal Is on With the Brownies.

Out in St. Louis a certain baseball writ-Out in St. Louis a certain baseball writer is having a pipe dream or he is on the inside wire. It is claimed that a big trade deal is on between Clark Griffith, of the Nationals, and Fielder Jones, of the Brownies, which will invoive the sending of Eddie Foster and Ray Morgan to the Mound City in exchange for Del Pratt, Jimmy Austin and Ward Miller. When interviewed about this question last night Manager Griffith said it was another wild dream and there is no truth in the story. The following is the story:

Pratt, Jimmy Austin and Ward Miller. When interviewed about this question last night Manager Griffith said it was another wild dream and there is no truth in the story. The following is the story:

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—On one platform, at least, the free-born American voters and repeaters of St. Louis are unanimous: They've had enough of Jimmy Austin.

It matters not that Johnny Lavan, in a sanguinary fit of oratorical eloquence, declares that Austin played through the last three months of the past season with a sprained side.

In the story:

Monthar declared to a half.

A comparison of two of the best full-backs seen in the series so far can be will enter the fray the decided choice because of its past performances, having won its first two games against Western, 20 to 0, and Business, 12 to 6.

A win today for Central will practically cinch the champlonship for it, while a lose will put Tech on an even basis. Tech has benten "Eastern, 7 declares that Austin played through the last three months of the past season with a sprained side.

last three months of the past season with a sprained side,
"I know it to be a fact," says Lavan,
"that Austin couldn't raise his right hand over his head after he was hurt in Chisago, July 4. Many a night after a hard game we had to massage Jimmy's arm for an hour to relieve the pain. And often when he was pushing his bat at a ball and the fans thought he was trying to keep from striking out, the truth was the loyal students of Tech.

Central will be greatly strengthened by the roturn of Capt, Saxon from the borthat Jimmy couldn't swing. But he was In there hustling all the time.

In there hustling all the time.

That lets Johnny out. He might as well stump the city south of Chouteau avenue in behalf of prohibition as to try to get that argument over. The fans of St. Louis admire Austin's pep. His enthugiasm, bold and unbending, is contagious. Indeed, they'd like to elect Jimmy mayor of the city. Anything to get him off third hase!

Here's a Deal in Prospect.

And some of those, more or less vio-lent, have already arranged a trade that materially relieves the situation. This deal hasn't yet passed the conversa-tional stage, but it is being talked of and might possibly be put through, if Fielder Jones doesn't prove foolishly obstinate. Th edeal in question involves the transfer of Del Pratt, Austin and Ward Miller to Washington in exchange for Eddle Foster and Ray Morgan, two of Griff's little-but-oh-my! infielders.

Foster is recognized through the American League as the best third sacker in the game. At least he's the greatest hit-and-run man in Ban Johnson's circuit. He can connect with the ball in the pinch better than any man in the league. No extravagance there. It's a matter of common knowledge. Morgan is just an average player, a sure fielder, but not much of a hitter.

Cadillac Captures Honors In the Juvenile Handicap

By GEORGE B. MORRIS.

Pimileo Race Track, Md., Oct. 9.—The Juvenile Handicap, a six-furlong affair, furnished the feature event of the day, and was won in handy fashion by Cadlilac, who beat H. G. Bedwell's Manokin a length, while the favorite, Jock Scot, was third. Manokin cut out all the running, and only fallocat vicht at the end. Jock and only faltered right at the end. Jock Scot was away badly and had little chance.

day with the Mohawk Athletic Club cleven.

This game should be one of the best that will be witnessed here this season, as the Trojans are well fortified for this contest and will give the "Indians" a great run for the honors. Coaches Koogie and "Buff" Turner have had the Trojans each night during the past week in preparation for this contest and the eleven is fast rounding into form. Manager Geraidi is confident that the southwest team will be in prime shape for this battle and can see nothing but an exchange of the championship honors.

Three local games are listed for the football fans tomorrow. In two of the contests the local representatives are exfootball fans tomorrow. In two of the contests the local representatives are expected to find plenty of opposition, while the other will be no more than a romp. Georgetown is playing the West Virginia Wesleyan team and reports on the Mountainers claim that they have the best team in years and should give the Hill-toppers plenty of opposition. Many of the followers of the Carlisle Indians will remember Fullback Calac, who always showed a remarkable amount of ability when performing in this vicinity. Calac is playing the fullback position for the visitors, and as he has always ran wild on the Hilltop field, the fans are looking for him to repeat these performances unless Coach Exedine has prepared a crackerjack defense for this player. All West Virginia's plays are built around Calac and it will be interesting to watch if the Blue and Gray can halt this fast charging eleven.
